

BULLETS SIZZLE ACROSS BORDER AT NACO, ARIZONA

CLEVER YEGGMEN
BLOW VAULT OF
P. O.; GOT $20,000

Few Clues to Robbery of the Postoffice at Macomb, Ill.

Peoria, Ill., April 6.—(AP)—Yeggmens, who operated with the precision of a crew of engineers, last night used both an acetylene torch and nitroglycerin to break into the postoffice vault at Macomb, 70 miles southwest of here, and escaped with more than $20,000 in cash, stamps and securities.

Before starting to work on the steel door of the vault with the acetylene torch, they improvised a rude shelter before the vault with a tarpaulin, to shield the light of the flame from the street.

After cutting a neat hole fourteen by eighteen inches in the outer door of the vault, they blew the lock from an inner door with a charge of nitroglycerin. Despite the fact that persons were sleeping within 100 feet of the postoffice, no one heard the detonation which shattered the lock of the inner door.

Were Not Seen.

After looting the vault, the yeggmens escaped through a rear window which they had pried open to gain entrance to the building. No one saw them leave.

They left behind them the acetylene gas tank which supplied fuel for their torch, and also the tarpaulin which they had draped over the vault door. County authorities today were endeavoring to trace the acetylene gas tank by means of its serial number, although it was pointed out that it may have passed through several hands between its last purchaser of record, and the yeggmens.

It was the first time the postoffice at Macomb ever had been robbed. Authorities today were investigating to determine why a burglar alarm system, designed to set off a tear gas bomb within the building, failed to operate.

The robbery took place sometime between midnight and 6 a. m. The janitor who left the building at midnight discovered the gaping hole in the vault door when he returned at 6 o'clock.

A checkup of the loot disclosed that only $200 or $300 of the amount was in cash. The remainder was in stamps and securities.

Despite the fact that the operations of the yeggmens displayed an intimate knowledge of the interior of the postoffice, and the hours when it is deserted, no suspicious persons have been observed loitering in the town during the past month, officials said.

It is believed that the robbery was carefully planned.

STRIKE OF TAXI
DRIVERS BRINGS
THEM VACATIONLocal Chauffeurs' Walk
Out Failed to Get Results Sought

Five Yellow cab chauffeurs about the city and comprising the day force of drivers, could not resist the warm weather and budding trees and called a walkout yesterday, believing that their rights were being seriously trampled upon. Thoughts of last winter's ice covered streets when driving a taxi was really quite an undertaking, had completely disappeared and the steering wheel grippers made certain demands upon the management.

From all reports, chief among these, was a demand for a half day holiday each week from their duties, but this fell upon deaf ears. A repeated demand met with no consideration and the five overworked drivers, disgusted and disgruntled, turned over their caps and cabs and declared a walkout, choosing to remain in the wide open spaces until their demands were met.

Even this drastic action did not change the attitude of the management and new drivers manned the cabs and the service continued without a hitch. According to reports, the new drivers were followed by the strikers in another car and called some uncomplimentary names and this action was reported to Chief J. D. VanBibber who cautioned the jobless quintet against such action. The strike from all appearances was a rank failure and new drivers were secured at once, the management announcing that none of the strikers would be taken back into the service.

Liner Paris Went
Aground This Morn

New York, April 6.—(AP)—The steamship Paris, outward bound, went ashore on the mud flats off South Brooklyn early today in a heavy fog. The ship was believed to be in no danger. The French lines sent out tugs to assist in removing the vessel.

"Pint-Lifers" to Be Pardoned

FOUR KNOWN DEAD IN HOTEL
FIRE IN DES MOINES, IOWA
AT EARLY HOUR THIS MORNScores Injured in Destruction of Land-
Mark of City

Des Moines, Iowa, April 6.—(AP)—At least four persons are dead and scores are suffering from injuries, burns and cuts received in a fire which broke out at the Kirkwood Hotel, fourth and Walnut Street here shortly after 3 o'clock this morning.

The known dead: Mrs. Ted Watson, Red Jarrup.

Two unidentified men. Fire Chief Burnett after inspecting the wreckage expressed belief that when pick and axe squads get to work later in the day, several additional bodies may be found. He said a group of men and women had room in the most affected part of the room in the most affected part of the structure and had not been found afterwards.

Many injured were given first aid treatment. Two policemen, attracted by women screaming, and a Negro porter noticed the fire about the same time and turned in alarms. All fire companies responded to the call, and all ambulances in the city were called to take the injured to hospitals.

The men jumped from the fifth (top) floor to the top of the court which served as the roof of the first floor. Three are believed to be dead. The building, which is a total loss, was valued at between $200,000 and $250,000. It was constructed before the Civil War, and is one of the Des Moines' oldest hotels.

Lawyer's Verse,
Tho' Very Terse,
Made Plea Worse

Chicago, April 6.—(AP)—Attorney Victor Frohlich is well versed in the poetry of motion.

He stood before Judge Sabath yesterday as counsel for Mrs. Anna Barcal, seeking a divorce, and spoke as follows:

"This motion, if Your Honor please, 'For alimony, and solicitor's fees; 'The man is strong, the woman meek."

"I think she should get 12 bucks a week."

Judge Sabath enjoys a bit of poetry now and then, but in its place, "Are you making light of this court?" he demanded.

"What do you mean, your honor?" "You just recited poetry," said the Judge, "and very bad poetry, too."

"I did not realize it, Your Honor," said Mr. Frohlich. "It must have been the springlike weather, joining my well-meant words together. Let the record plainly show that I am not inclined to the making of verse, nor the recital thereof."

"Very well," the Court said, "I'll entertain your motion, though your motion did not entertain me."

He continued the case a week so that Anton Barsal might engage an attorney—one who does not, Judge Sabath emphasized, use poetry.

Favorites Winners
in Swimming Meet

St. Louis, Apr. 6.—(AP)—Favorites came through in the qualifying trials today in two events in the sixth annual intercollegiate swimming meet at Washington University. The finals will be run off tonight.

Preliminaries in only two events were held and Illinois and Tulsa, Okla., entries, the favorites, were among the qualifiers. Results in the trial events were:

100-yard back stroke: First heat—White, Champaign; Oswald, Danville; Johnson, Tulsa. Second heat—Dannon, Principia, St. Louis; Fitzgerald, Tulsa; Milewski, Danville.

Fancy diving:—(Six qualifying)—Saulman, Tulsa; Reilly, Tulsa; Tannen, Cleveland; Sanger, Champaign; Ellis, Danville; Martin, Principia.

High School Girls
Must Wear Stockings
Springfield, Ill., April 6.—(AP)—"No stockings, no school" is the order that has been issued by Miss Grace Nix, Dean of Women at Springfield high school. Yesterday one girl who had discarded her hose temporarily was readmitted to class when she donned them again, but another had to go home to get her stockings.

NINE KILLED IN SPRING STORMS IN
MINN., WIS., IOWA

More Than Hundred in Hospitals. Many are Badly Injured

Minneapolis, April 6.—(AP)—Spring storms of tornado violence whipped through parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa late yesterday, killing nine persons. Three others were missing early today and were believed dead. More than 100 men, women and children were in hospitals, and some of them were so severely hurt that they may not live.

The property damage can hardly be accurately estimated, so wide was the storm's path and so incomplete were reports from the several storm centers; but it was certain to run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In North Minneapolis alone the damage was fixed at $100,000, while the storm's wake in country sections was strewn with wrecked farm buildings.

Formed Over Resort
The most destructive of the storms formed over Lake Minnetonka, a summer resort near Minneapolis. It struck with increasing velocity on the north side of the city, wrecking many homes, damaging communication lines and uprooting trees. It tore its way through two Minnesota counties and three in Wisconsin before it blew itself out. In this city, where the population is heaviest, only one, Andrew Hanson, was killed. George Lundgren was killed at Forest Lake when his house collapsed, and at Taylor Falls, 30 miles to the north and east, C. P. Bryan, a farmer, was crushed to death. Then the storm lifted to strike again at Rice Lake and Reeves, Wis., where four were killed. Mrs. Louis Reed and a sister were crushed to death near Rice Lake and near Reeves the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pittman died when their home was demolished. A farmer, John Solomon, was killed.

One Iowa Fatality
George Tulin, a Little Rock, Iowa, farmer, was the sole fatality reported in Iowa, being killed when his chicken house collapsed during a heavy windstorm.

The storm developed late in the afternoon. With but little warning it broke over Minneapolis, and in a half hour the northern section of the city was strewn with wreckage. From that point the tornado worked northeast, dipping and rising.

TRAFFIC PARALYZED
Denver, April 6.—(AP)—Travel by rail, automobile and air has been paralyzed in parts of Colorado and Utah, following heavy rains in Colorado and a six inch snow in Utah.

The snow and a thirty mile an hour wind, kept airplanes in their hangars at the Salt Lake City airport. Milford, Utah, was blanketed by six inches of snow.

Landslides, snowfalls and floods followed a two day rain in the San Juan Basin in Colorado. Railroad bridges and tracks in the district either were washed out by the floods or covered by snow. Highways are impassable.

The flood waters were receding today throughout the district and unless further rains swell the streams, it is believed that traffic will be normal within a few days.

Call Meeting For Monday to Consider
Plans for Y. M. C. A.

Dixon business and professional men who are interested in the renovation of the Young Men's Christian Association as an asset to the city's civic betterment have called a meeting to be held Monday evening from 5 until 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Christian church. At this time plans will be discussed with a view of mapping out a program to finance the institution. Dinner will be served in the parlors of the church at 6:15.

No subscriptions will be solicited or received at this meeting, the purpose of which will be to discuss problems confronting the administration of the Dixon association and outlining a program to be followed in the effort to reopen the association.

Will Try to Pacify
Moline League Team

Moline, Ill., April 6.—(AP)—Directors of the Mississippi Valley League have been asked to attend a meeting at the Fort Armstrong Hotel in Rock Island Monday at 1 p. m. when President Belden Hill will attempt to pacify the Moline club which has threatened to withdraw from the circuit if the schedule is not changed.

President Hill will put the matter up to the league directors and it may be necessary to draw up a new schedule. Moline complains that Rock Island is given the best dates on the card in competition to them.

GOV. LONG MUST FACE TRIAL BY STATE SENATE

Impeachment is Voted by Lower House of Louisiana Today

BULLETIN.
Baton Rouge, April 6.—(AP)—The House of Representatives of the Louisiana Legislature today voted to send Huey P. Long, Governor to trial before the state Senate. The vote was 58 to 40.

The impeachment was voted on a resolution by George K. Perrault, St. Landry, charging the Governor with attempting to intimidate Charles P. Manship, publisher of the State Times and Morning Advocate of Baton Rouge, by threatening to publish the infirmities of his brother, Douglas Manship, an inmate in a state insane asylum.

Representative Hamiter moved the appointment of managers from the House to conduct the impeachment trial before the Senate.

The vote was taken in a tense atmosphere with members shouting and disputing the recording of the voting machines. Some of the members changed their votes and the clerk refused to announce the vote until he had polled the House.

Baton Rouge, La., April 6.—(AP)—Governor Huey P. Long, who for months has ridden the sea of stormy politics, will know before the end of the day whether he is to be brought before an impeachment court.

By unanimous agreement, the Louisiana House of Representatives will vote before 8 o'clock tonight on charges in the impeachment resolution that run from swearing to a plot to have a state Representative murdered.

This agreement was reached to check a reported maneuver contemplated by the Governor of either seeking a court injunction or calling the state militia to dissolve the legislature if it attempts to sit beyond midnight tonight, the time limit he fixed in his call for the special session at which he hoped to have a taxation program adopted.

While the House listens to the testimony, the Senate marks time with an occasional outbreak of debate over the impeachment proceedings over the House. The Senate is prepared to receive the impeachment charges at a moment's notice and turn itself into a court of impeachment.

Lead in Fight to Oust Louisiana
Governor

Leaders in the Louisiana legislature's battle to oust Governor Huey P. Long, against whom 19 impeachment charges have been filed, are shown here. Above, at the left, is Lieutenant Governor Paul N. Cyr, a dentist, a former Long supporter, who will become governor if Long is removed. At the right is John Fournet, speaker of the house of representatives and Long floor leader, as he explains an allegedly fake count on a motion to adjourn which precipitated a riot. Below, left, is Representative Clinton Sayes, of Avoyelles parish, who was struck on the head and badly injured in the riot. At the right is Harry "Batling" Bozeman, former personal bodyguard of Governor Long, who now charges in an affidavit that Long tried to get him to assassinate Representative J. Y. Sanders, Jr., a political enemy.

STERLING DRY AGENT HERE
SEEKING HIS ASSISTANT
AND $18 OF HIS GOOD CASHGave Stranger Money
to Purchase Evidence;
He Disappears

Liquor investigators, who are the subject of no small amount of criticism throughout the country at this time, appear to be having their troubles in this vicinity as well as in others. Last evening the Dixon police were requested to apprehend a stranger with an "artificial" nose, who was alleged to have tricked a Sterling liquor investigator out of $18.

The investigator came to Dixon later to assist in an effort to locate his assistant, but as far as is known, without result. The assistant, it appears, was entrusted with the sum of $18 by the investigator, to enter a Sterling "speak-easy" and purchase a gallon of alcohol, and return it to the liquor sleuth, to be used as evidence later on. According to reports the assistant assumed the responsibility and was seen to enter the suspected dispensary by way of the front door. This was the last seen of him and the investigator's $18. The stranger, leaving presumably by the back door, and then shaking the dust of Sterling from his feet, sought another location.

The irate booze sleuth furnished a fair description of his assistant to the local officers and among these was the outstanding feature of the "artificial" nose which showed marked signs of peeling.

BEARDSTOWN TO BUILD
Another Levee Soon

Beardstown, Ill., April 6.—(AP)—Construction of another levee at Beardstown to cost $33,750 was approved by Cass County Court late yesterday. It will connect the west end of the present levee with the South Beardstown drainage levee, and reclaim 3300 acres of permanently flooded land and stop seepage in the west end of the city.

Work on the levee will start immediately. Two-thirds of the cost will be borne by the federal government and one-third by Beardstown and the South Beardstown drainage district.

Infant Strangled
to Death in Bed

East St. Louis, Ill., April 6.—(AP)—Bonnie Lee Anderson, 9-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, slipped through the rungs at the foot of the bed on which she was sleeping and strangled to death last night. The infant's mother was shopping at a neighborhood store at the time of the accident.

Government Launch
Looking for Fliers

Perth, N. S. W., April 6.—(AP)—Captain Charles Kingsford Smith and his three companions of the Southern Cross were believed today to be down southwest of Thuruburn Bluff, Western Australia. A government launch with a government searching party was sent for them. The information was conveyed in a telegram this morning to Philip Collier, Premier of Western Australia, from Colonel Mansbridge, resident Magistrate at Broome, far West Australian coast.

HARD FIGHTING
FOR CITY BEGAN
AT EARLY HOUR

U. S. Trooper is Wounded in Engagement East of Embattled City

BULLETIN
Washington, April 6.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson announced today the State Department had decided to open a consulate at Ciudad Obregon, Mexico, and to place a Vice Consul in charge to look after the interests of Americans in the vicinity of that city in Sonora. Most of Sonora is now held by the Mexican rebels.

BULLETIN
Nogales, Ariz., April 6.—(AP)—Six federal airplanes flew over here today headed eastward toward Naco from the Mexican government air base at San Luis Sonora. Federalists here said they were sent to aid the government forces at Naco, Sonora. The planes were bombers.

BULLETIN
Phoenix, Ariz., April 6.—(AP)—Governor John C. Phillips of Arizona said today that the state's hands were tied in the matter of the movement of Mexican federal troops across Arizona soil. The state could only protest, he said, adding that the Washington government had promised him that no Mexican troop movements would be permitted without Arizona's consent.

Naco, Sonora, April 6.—(AP)—In the face of withering gun fire rebel troops under General Fausto Topete attacking the federal garrison here had gained the protection of a cemetery east of town at noon today and had driven the federal troops from the front line trenches.

A United States Trooper, a Negro, shot while on line duty east of Naco this morning, was brought to the Cavalry camp field hospital on the American side of the line and identified as Private John Fizeze, of Troop B, 10th Cavalry. The camp surgeon said the wounded trooper would recover. Fizeze was struck in the chest by a bullet fired from the Mexican side of the line. A Mexican woman shot in the back, while on the American side of the line, also was in the camp hospital. A Mexican child in Naco, Ariz., was reported to have been struck in the mouth by a spent bullet.

Shortly before concerted firing opened between the besieging rebels and the government defenders of Naco, Sonora, a long column of rebel troops with a red rebel flag in the lead marched down an open road from General Fausto Topete's troop train.

The troops were deployed right and left and moved rapidly behind the advancing cavalry. As soon as the federal outposts had been driven back, the infantry and tank advance became general, to the accompaniment of vicious rifle and machine gun fire from both sides.

Rebel tanks waddled and dodged about the mesquite grown plain, spitting machine gun bullets from their armored sides. Rebel cavalry closed in and drove federal outposts back to the main trenches. Fire from the federal entrenchments became hot and rapid as columns of rebel infantry moved up.

Under Withering Fire
The lumbering tanks rolled up within easy range of the federal trenches and flashed tongues of fire. The entire rebel forward movement was made under withering fire from the federal fortifications.

Watchers from this side of the line could see the infantry advancing in double quick time along the wide front. About three quarters of a mile from the federal trenches in front of Naco, the attackers were met by a heavy fire from the federal machine gun nests which were moving the rebels down. Many were seen to fall, but they were left to lie as the infantrymen swept forward.

During the rebel attack two bombing planes from Topete's base rained bombs by twos and fours on the beleaguered town. The bombs exploded and scattered shrapnel inside the trenches while rebel riflemen poured a hot fire across the top of the earthworks.

Weekly Grain

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN

Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—Uncle Sam's probable wheat export surplus for 1929 is now estimated at 40,000,000 bu. bigger than it was a week ago. Leading authorities here announced today that the surplus is likely to be around 300,000,000 bu. based on present apparent likelihood that the harvest return will equal the average of the last ten years.

Largely reflecting the outlook indicated, wheat values this morning were 2 1/2¢ to 3 1/2¢ a bushel lower compared with a week ago. Simultaneously, corn was 3 1/2¢ to 4 1/2¢ down, oats 1/2¢ to 1/2¢ off, and provisions varying from 35¢ decline to a rise of 15¢.

On the new basis, the expected domestic crop of wheat this year will be approximately 900,000,000 bu. about the same as was produced in 1928. However, the spring wheat crop is only just now being seeded. And it is a number of weeks before the harvest of the winter crop begins. In this connection prominent trade experts pointed out today that much can happen between now and then, and that in the last ten years the average advance in price from the lowest March level to the highest point later in the season has been about 20¢ a bushel.

It so happens that the lowest price which May delivery of wheat touched in March this season was $1.18, the exact figure at which May wheat closed last night. However the first delivery day for May wheat is hardly three weeks off, and the outlook is that a large amount of May wheat holdings will either have to be transferred to July and later months, or will have to be liquidated, as there is only about 8,000,000 bu. of contract wheat in Chicago at the present time.

With prospects, though, that the United States carry-over of wheat at the end of the season, July 1, will be the largest on record, few speculators are hardy enough just now to talk of a traditional 20¢ a bushel maximum upturn. On the contrary, talk is current in various quarters that a new low-price record for the season is yet to come, and that friends of higher prices for wheat will have a rough road to travel during the next thirty days, facing heavy supplies already in sight and the favorable outlook for the new crop.

Corn is feeling the bearish effect of breaks in the price of wheat and of assertions that there is materially more corn to come forward from the interior than last year. Besides, trade reports indicate 67 per cent fewer hogs on farms than a year ago. Oats prices are relatively steady on account of reduction of elevator stocks of oats at terminals.

Provision values reflect the liberal holdings of lard at present on hand in Chicago.

Butter Market

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—It is difficult to find indications that butter prices have more or less permanently reached bottom. Fear of a surplus in the near future predominates with most operators.

Receipts are a good deal heavier than a week ago, and are slightly larger than for the corresponding week last year. These heavier receipts are not readily absorbed by the consuming demand, and speculators are keeping aloof.

Butter production at the moment appears to hold the key to the situation, and with most concentrated feed prices lower than a year ago and butter fat prices higher, there is a tendency for heavier feeding of the concentrates and for a corresponding increase of the flow of milk. Weather conditions are also quite favorable, especially in the southwest, where an early spring make exceeding that of a year ago is being looked for.

DIXON MILK PRICE
From April 1st until further notice the Borden company will pay $2.35 per cwt. for milk testing 4 per cent butter fat, direct ratio.

Rheumatism Overcome by Walking

It has been found that an especially constructed and treated pair of heel plates (one shoe and one copper) placed in the shoes of a sufferer, quickly rid the sufferer of rheumatic pains, sciatica and stiff joints, as well as tones up the system in general. Thus the sufferer literally "walks" his way to health. Experiments in hundreds of cases prove these heel plates to be a boon to the sufferer in most severe cases of rheumatism. Smith's Eureka Co., 272 Lee St., McKenzie, Tenn., is so anxious to prove their statement that they are willing to send any sufferer their liberal trial offer. Write them today.—Adv.

HARD FIGHTING FOR CITY BEGAN AT EARLY HOUR

whizzed through practically every open space in the southern half of the Arizona town.

As the rebels drew away it became apparent that they had suffered some casualties.

Naco, Arizona, April 6—(AP)—Hot fighting for the possession of Naco, Sonora, was being waged today in a wide semi-circle around the Mexican federal entrenchments in the city.

Bullets sizzled and ricocheted across the main street of Naco, Arizona, on the American side of the line, as firing from both flanks became intense.

The general engagement followed a brush earlier in the morning eight miles east of here between a detachment of American Cavalrymen and a band of Mexicans, believed to have been rebels. One American trooper was wounded before the Mexicans were driven back across the border.

Use Planes and Cavalry. Rebel forces of General Fausto Topete this morning hurled themselves against the loyal garrison at Naco, Sonora, with a simultaneous advance of bombing plane and cavalry.

The detonation of rebel aerial bombs, the booming of a field piece in the federal garrison and the sharp crack of rifles along the federal outposts heralded the beginning of the battle shortly after daybreak.

Two airplanes dropped six bombs. Shot in Check. A member of Troop D, Tenth Cavalry on border patrol, United States Army, was shot in the cheek while on duty near the Southern Pacific tunnel eight miles east of here, early this morning, according to reports received at the headquarters of Major Walter Hazeltine, commander of American troops stationed here.

An explosion which rocked the town of Naco early this morning was found with the coming of day to have been the blowing up of a railway locomotive held by the federal garrison at Naco, Sonora. The locomotive had no steam up at the time. It was in the roundhouse of the federal garrison outside the town.

Shortly after 3 o'clock a terrific explosion shook this border town, tumbling residents from their beds. The entire town was left in darkness, the electric light plant being put out of commission by the blast. It was believed then that one of the mines planted near the Mexican federal fortifications at Naco, Sonora, had exploded.

Found Bomb Cache. Border patrolmen of Troop E, Tenth U. S. Cavalry reported to Major Hazeltine that early this morning they discovered fifteen sacks each filled with five bombs between the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks and the international line.

The American train carrying 290 Mexican federal soldiers from El Paso, Texas, arrived here this morning at 9:25 o'clock. It was indicated the troops would be immediately sent across the line to reinforce the Mexican federal garrison.

U. S. PLANES TO BORDER. San Antonio, Texas, April 6—(AP)—Twelve attack airplanes from Ft. Crockett, fully equipped for fighting, and six observation airplanes from Dodd Field, were ordered to Naco, Arizona, by Major General William Lassiter, Eighth Corps Area commander, this morning, to control the air along the border in the vicinity of that town.

The planes were ordered to reach Naco not later than Sunday. Troops to service the planes and handle them on the ground were ordered to entrain immediately at Ft. Crockett to proceed by rail to Naco.

EVACUATE ROSALIA. Headquarters Revolutionary Army Chihuahua City, Mexico, April 6—(AP)—Evacuation of Rosalia, Chihuahua, by the rebels is under way. Trainloads of soldiers from that town, until today the outpost of the insurgents, have begun to arrive here.

It was believed rebel forces were being concentrated here, either for a stand at Bachimba Pass or for a march into the state of Sonora to unite with troops under General Fausto Topete.

INSURGENTS ACTIVE

Mexico City, April 6—(AP)—So-called religious insurgents in the state of Jalisco developed unusual activity there today and threatened possible major blows in the rear of both principal federal armies.

Dispatches from Mexico City newspapers from Aguascalientes said the "Cristeros"—as the government calls the insurgents—were fighting federal troops at Loma, Jalisco, and had torn up a section of the railway between Mexico City and Guadalajara, second city in the Republic.

The dispatches succeeded by a day or so announcement by President Calles of the diversion of 5,000 troops to the states of Jalisco and Guanajuato to wipe out the "Cristeros."

The new federal army sent here, to be commanded by General Saturnino Cedillo, has not yet arrived in the territory where the insurgents have been active.

DIXON GIRL PUT TO SLEEP LAST EVE OVER PHONE

24-Hour Hypnotic Sleep Will Terminate at 8 This Evening

Miss Winifred Ferguson, employed at the Brown Shoe company, entered a hypnotic sleep last night at 8 o'clock and was placed in bed in the display window at the Schumm furniture store, where she continued her repose throughout today, while hundreds of persons watched her. She will be awakened this evening at 8 o'clock at the Moose hall, this feature being the first act of a program presented tonight and Monday evening by the Athletic Club of the Reynolds Wire Company plants.

It was Miss Ferguson's first hypnotic sleep. Prof. Carlo, hypnotist, induced the sleep by long distance telephone last evening from Sterling.

The young lady prepared to retire and stepped into the display window which had been especially furnished for the occasion and picked up an extension telephone in response to the long distance message from Sterling. Within a few minutes and during the conversation, she dropped the receiver and one of her attendants, took the telephone instrument and she was placed in bed and was sound asleep.

The hypnotist will awaken her this evening at 8 o'clock. She will remain in the bed in the show window until 7 o'clock when she will be removed in the Preston ambulance to the Moose hall.

Monday evening, the concluding night of Sure, here in grim New England The spring is always slow, An' every bit of green grass Is kilt by frost and snow; Ah, many a heart is weary The winter days, I ween But oh, the joy when springtime comes An' brings the blessed green! —Dennis A. McCarthy, in "Voices from Erin."

Blanche Ports Was Bride on Wednesday

Miss Blanche A. Ports became the bride of John M. Meiners Wednesday afternoon of last week at three o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Ports of Polo. Rev. W. O. Albert, pastor of the U. B. Brick church officiating, performing the single ring ceremony.

The young couple, unattended, were united in marriage in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride. The bride wore a gown of empire blue georgette and beige sippers.

Following the ceremony, a two course wedding supper was served. Those who were present for the ceremony and supper in addition to the newlyweds and the minister were Mr. and Mrs. Cal Ports, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ports and two children and Mrs. W. O. Albert.

At the wedding supper the ring which had been hidden in the bride's cake was found by little Miss Helen May and the coin by Mrs. Cal. Ports. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Ports. She received her elementary education in the rural school at Eagle Point, coming then to Polo High School where she was graduated in the class of 1917. After attending Northern Illinois State Teachers' College at DeKalb for several years, she taught in rural schools of this community for ten years. Among the schools she taught were Canada Settlement, Donadson, Evergreen and Judson.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Minert Meiners of near Harper. For several years past he has been farming with his father, having made his home with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Meiners will reside on a farm in the vicinity of Harper.

Palmyra Mutual Aid Society Meeting

The Palmyra Mutual Aid Society met in an all day meeting Wednesday in the basement of the Sugar Grove church, 21 members, 1 visitor and 11 children enjoying the wonderful scramble dinner served at noon. The ladies were busy piecing quilt blocks. The meeting was opened by all repeating the Lord's Prayer, the Scripture lesson was then read. Secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. The entertainment for the afternoon was furnished by Mrs. LeRoy Buhler, which was enjoyed by all.

The society accepted an invitation to meet in three weeks, April 24, with Mrs. John Sheaffer.

MENU for the FAMILY

To prevent patent leather shoes or other articles from cracking, rub them with olive oil applied on a soft cloth. Place shoe trees or crushed paper in shoes to keep their shape.

DINNER MENU
Escalloped Celery and Poached Eggs
Buttered Turnips
Bread Plum Conserve
Cabbage Salad
Fruit Gelatin Dessert Coffee

Escalloped Celery and Poached Eggs, Serving Four
CELERY MIXTURE
2-3 cup diced celery
1-4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon finely chopped onions
1-4 cups water
4 eggs

Mix the celery, salt, onions and water and cook slowly for 25 minutes in a covered pan. Add to the sauce mixture and add the eggs as directed below.

Sauce Mixture
3 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1-2 cups milk
Celery stock
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
4 eggs

Melt the butter and add the flour, mix well and add the milk and celery stock. Cook, stirring frequently, until a creamy sauce forms. Add the salt and cooked celery. Pour into a shallow, buttered baking dish. Make four indentations with the back of a spoon, break the eggs into these holes. Sprinkle with the paprika. Bake in a moderate oven for 10 minutes, or until the eggs are well coated over the tops. Serve at once. A garnish of parsley adds color.

Fruit Gelatin Whip

1 package cherry flavored prepared gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1-2 cup fruit juices, boiling
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1-2 cup diced pineapple
1-2 cup diced bananas
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Pour the boiling water and fruit juices over the gelatin mixture and stir until dissolved. Add the lemon juice and allow to cool and thicken a little. With a rotary wheel egg beater, beat until frothy. Beat in the rest of the ingredients and beat in a cold place until the mixture will hold its shape. Pour into a glass mold and set in a cold place to stiffen. Unmold and serve plain, with cream or custard sauce.

The lemon juice will aid in preventing the bananas from darkening.

First History State Organization D. A. R.

Chrisman, Ill., April 6—(AP)—Depicting the rise of the Illinois Daughters of the American Revolution from their date of organization in 1892 to the present status of 193 chapters and 9,943 members, the first history of the state organization has just been issued by Rose Moss Scott, of Chrisman, state historian of the D. A. R.

Bound in a handsome blue leather cover, the 500 page volume traces the growth of each chapter in the state and gives a detailed account of the various projects and enterprises undertaken in an effort to perpetuate the spirit of their forefathers who fought in the American Revolution.

Historic spots marked by the Illinois D. A. R. are described and an account of the unveiling of "The Madonna of the Trail" memorial is contained in the book. The latter memorial, erected at Vandalia, Illinois, as a shrine to the pioneer mothers of the covered wagon days, was dedicated October 26, 1928. During the past year, the national society located 1,335 graves of soldiers of the Revolution, and marked 449 of them at an expense of $35,000.

Tribute is paid to former state officers, two of whom have held the position of national president of the D. A. R. They are Mrs. Mathew W. Scott and Mrs. Letitia Green Stevenson, both of the Bloomington chapter.

Under the leadership of Mrs. William Jackson Sweeney, of Rock Island, state regent for 1927 and 1928, six chapters and 920 new members were added to the Illinois organization, Mrs. Scott reports.

Easter Pageant "All Hail," Was Repeated

The Easter Pageant entitled "All Hail," was given for the second time at the Grace Evangelical church last evening. Special vocal numbers were given by Miss Vivian Isabelle Dugan, Mrs. Lulu Long and Mrs. Vivian Graves Baker. The Sunday school orchestra furnished the special music.

SOUTH DIXON COMMUNITY CLUB TO MEET

The South Dixon Community club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Ernest Gottel on the Peoria road. All members are urged to attend.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB TO BE ENTERTAINED

The Tuesday Bridge club will be entertained at 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Miller, 416 Squires avenue.

Mrs. Hoover Greet "Evangeline Girls"

Among the first gifts to be received by the Hoovers at the White House were a home-made bedspread, a blanket and rugs—the work of the Acadians in Louisiana—which were presented by Mrs. A. A. Anding of Opelousa, La., president of the Longfellow-Evangeline National Park Memorial Association. Here are the girls who made the presentation to Mrs. Hoover. Left to right are Miss Mildred Schell, Miss Lucille Newlin, Mrs. Hoover, Miss Monica Gary and Miss Pearl Anding.

Excellent Program Prairieville P. T. A.

An appreciative audience, which filled the upper room of the school to its capacity, listened to an excellent program under the auspices of the Prairieville P. T. A. last Thursday evening.

After the first number, which was a song by the primary pupils, the usual business meeting was held. Following this the Schweizer Trio, consisting of Claude Sweitzer and daughters Edna and Leonora, playing the violin, piano and cornet, gave a very enjoyable number, and responded to an enthusiastic encore. Mrs. Wilbur Myers and Mrs. Emory Overcash presented a humorous dialogue, "Soothing a Headache," which delighted the audience.

A male quartet composed of four young men from the Mennonite church, sang two numbers and won hearty applause. The members of this quartet are Messrs. Book, Meilinger, Good and Fry. Miss Marguerite Richardson, teacher of the primary room, read a short paper reviewing the early history of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers explaining its present organization and purposes, and the relation of the local chapter to the state body. Miss Leonora Sweitzer next played a cornet solo, which was well rendered and well received.

Mr. Austin Powers, one of the oldest members of the Prairieville P. T. A. who has lived in that school district all his life, gave a talk on "Old School Days." He told several reminiscences of his early days in the school, contrasting those times and the school equipment, etc., with the present day conditions. He gave an example of the way in which the pupils "sang" the multiplication table and also the states and their capitals. He recalled several amusing incidents which occurred in the school and recalled the good old days of the spelling matches and the singing school.

A song by the grammar room pupils was the next number. Mrs. Ira Kendall gave a reading and impersonation which delighted the audience.

The male quartet sang two negro spirituals in a very effective manner, again demonstrating their natural ability and talent. The Schweizer Trio closed the program with "Schiol Days," as being in keeping with the talk which had been given on that subject. The hospitality committee served refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee.

There were visitors present from several other rural school districts, and from Sterling, Dixon and Milledgeville high schools.

Miss Mary Blair Bride A. C. Woods

A quiet home wedding took place at the home of Mrs. P. L. Woods in Paw Paw, on Tuesday evening of this week when her son, A. C. Woods, was united in marriage to Miss Mary Blair of Chicago.

Rev. W. L. Manny performed the ceremony. The only witnesses were Mrs. Woods and Miss Alice Merriam. The bride was formerly Miss Mary Blair. The couple will occupy the Rowland house soon to be vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hall in Paw Paw.

Y. W. M. S. TO MEET TUESDAY EVENING

The Young Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet at the parsonage Tuesday evening at 7:30. The leaders are Mrs. Arthur Hoban and Miss Cecil Barron. The hostesses are Mrs. Wm. Wickey and Miss Lillian Koerper. All young women of the church are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

NEWELL LUMSDEN ARRIVED FOR VISIT

Newell Lumsden, son of Mrs. E. C. Lumsden and the late Dist. Supt. Rev. E. C. Lumsden, arrived last evening in Dixon for a visit with his mother at the Charles Hintz home, during his spring vacation from the Cornell College at Mt. Vernon, Ia.

Illinois Woman is Seeking Office in National D. of A. R.

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—The candidacy of Mrs. William A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis for Corresponding Secretary-General of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has aroused the special interest of Illinois members in the National convention to be held in Washington next week.

Bearing officers and members of the Illinois chapters, a special train will leave here Thursday. On board will be Mrs. W. J. Sweeney of Rock Island, state regent; Mrs. H. E. Chubbuck, of Peoria, vice-president general; Mrs. Eli Dixon, of Roseville, state regent elect, and Mrs. Raymond C. Kimball, of Oak Park, in charge of the transportation.

Illinois members feel that Mrs. Rodenberg is particularly suited for the national office because of her D. A. R. activities in Washington during the twenty years that her husband served as congressman from Illinois. Her uncle, Thomas Ridgeway, is a former state treasurer and active in southern Illinois politics.

The Illinois delegation also is interested in the candidacy of Mrs. Edwin E. Sparks of Pennsylvania, candidate for the office of Historian General. She lived in Chicago thirteen years when her husband was Professor of History in the University of Chicago.

The Illinois chapters point with pride to the fact that two former President-Generals of the organization are from Illinois. They are Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, and her sister, Mrs. Mathew T. Scott, both of Bloomington.

Charming Luncheon For Mrs. Lumsden

On Friday Mrs. L. E. Edwards was hostess at a charming luncheon, which was most informal, given in honor of Mrs. E. C. Lumsden, now of Belvidere, formerly of Dixon. Mrs. Lumsden, has for the past few days been a guest at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Ives, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hintz, and other friends in Dixon.

Guests at the happy little affair yesterday included some of Mrs. Lumsden's most intimate friends here. The dainty luncheon table was gay with pink carnations and ferns and pink candles. All the guests attending spent a most enjoyable afternoon, renewing their friendship with Mrs. Lumsden.

Frank Newell, Asst. Manager New Kline Store, Was Honored

Fifty guests, including the employees of the new Kline store on First street, a few friends, and a number from the Clinton, Ia., Kline store, had an exceptionally happy time last evening in the surprise held at the store, honoring Frank Newell, assistant to Manager S. M. Schwartz of the Dixon store. Mr. Newell has just had a splendid promotion in being made manager of the Kline store at Macomb, Ill., and he is leaving on Sunday for that city with his wife and little daughter Donna.

The employees of the store, according to the clever, pre-arranged plan, left as usual after the closing of the store, and then, while Messrs. Schwartz and Newell were talking business, in they all came, the merry crowd having with them plenty of supplies for a delicious picnic supper, which they proceeded to prepare for immediate consumption. It took Mr. Newell several minutes to assimilate the fact that the affair was in his honor, as modesty seems one of his characteristic traits. Mrs. Newell and little daughter were present, and assistant Manager Moe Hamburg of the Clinton, Ia. store, and he was accompanied by Miss Crowley and Miss Ingerman, also of the Clinton store.

There was much merriment, (the best of digestants, by the way,) as the tempting supper was rapidly disposed of, and afterward a happy evening was spent in dancing to the music of a radio in the store. Oh, yes, it was also stated this morning that "Choppy" Resbrook poured—anyway he presided at the coffee urn. Everyone in attendance today reports a very delightful evening, tinged with the regret that Mr. Newell and his charming young wife and daughter are not to make their home here—and yet all are happy to know of Mr. Newell's deserved advancement, as manager of the Macomb store. The Newell family will return often to visit, however. Manager Schwartz announces that his assistant has not yet been named.

MRS. REEDE TO RETURN IN MAY

Mrs. Alice Reede expects to return to her Assembly Park cottage about the middle of May. She is now in Palo Alto, Calif., with her daughter, Mrs. James Hobbins.

FASHION HINTS—

Coat Lengths
Looking over the fashion field, coat lengths seem to decide their own fates. But there's a difference between them for the discerning woman.

Very short jackets and boleros are excellent for the very young.

Cardigans are for suburban wear, for sports and for utility, such as shopping suits.

Finger tip jackets are best for the older or larger women.

Three-quarters coats help shorten the tall woman's figure.

Long coats slenderize.

Cloth Buttons

Button forms covered with the suit's fabric are new and quite a novel touch to many spring suits. Bound buttonholes are good, too.

Brown-Yellow

Excellent nowadays is the ensemble that features brown and yellow in combination. Yellow blouses are especially good if they are decorated with polka dots that sprinkle orange or red among their brown dots.

Wide-Wale Pique

Silk pique, in wide wale weave, has increasing popularity for sports. It is very pretty in colors; usually they are soft pastel shades.

White Kids

White glaze kid gloves are correct for afternoon suit wear. Off-white is better than dead white. They pull on or button trickily.

Animated Black

Black frocks will be animated this spring by large off-white collars, touches of fine lace, vestees of

They'll Be the Talk of Hollywood

It's just a lot of talk, of course, but that's the real reason why Gladys Stanley, left, and Dorothy Ward have been imported from the English stage to play in American sound films. For now that the long inarticulate movies have found their voice, accent vies with pulchritude in importance—and lucky are the girls like these London stars who obviously have the one and reputedly the other.

rose beige and other lingerie touches.

Plaids Good
Plaids appear in silks, wools, and gingham for dresses, in straws for new spring hats and in silk ribbons for trimmings.

One-Sided

Early spring millinery displays a penchant for wide or irregular sides. The vogue of having one side long and the other short is interesting.

Satin Binding

A new navy blue suit with double-breasted short jacket and side-pleated skirt has all its edges bound in black satin.

Rubber Banding

A green felt crepe blouse has its lower edge gathered on an elastic banding that can be worn outside the skirt or tucked inside.

Sky-Scraper Frock

A parchment shade rajah silk two-piece frock has a design of a skyscraper blocked into its jumper in five shades of brown.

Skirt Flares

A blue gracemien suit features a skirt with a deep fitted yoke and a skirt with a straight front pleat and both sides circular.

WESTMINSTER GUILD MEETS TUESDAY EVENING

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday evening at 6:30 with Mrs. Geo. Smith, 607 N. Galena avenue. A picnic supper will be the first feature of the evening, followed by the meeting.

WASTE AT ITS WORST.

While he was secretary of commerce, Herbert Hoover did a great deal of useful and important work in showing us how to eliminate waste.

The productivity of our factories and the general level of our prosperity were raised to higher levels when people discovered better ways to use their resources without wasting any of them.

There was one form of waste, however, that Hoover was unable to reach—the costliest, most inexcusable form of all; the waste of brains.

In the April issue of Hygeia, the health magazine of the American Medical Association, Donald A. Laird tells how a psychologist recently descended on a group of ordinary day laborers who were busy digging a sewer ditch and gave them intelligence tests.

Most of the laborers showed just about the kind of result you would expect. But three or four of them, to the amazement of the psychologist, proved that they had unusual intelligence. Their brains were keen enough for them to become members of the professions. The marks they got on the tests about what would be expected, say, of an average good lawyer.

Yet, fitted by nature to work with their brains, they were doing jobs that any ordinary half wit with a husky physique could do just as well as they.

Waste of that kind is waste that hurts the whole nation. It is more serious than waste of oil, of coal, of power, of timber, of soil. Yet it is a matter that seldom gets any attention. We expect it to right itself. We take it for granted that every man will somehow find his way into the place where he can exercise all of his faculties and powers to the best advantage—and carelessly overlook the hundreds and thousands of cases where this fails to happen.

The psychologist who tested these ditch diggers didn't bother to find out why the three or four men of above-the-average intelligence happened to be digging ditches. Probably we wouldn't be much wiser if he had. The thing is not uncommon, and there is a variety of reasons for it. We're fairly familiar with most of them.

Much as we talk about the "glorious opportunities" of our country, the plain fact remains that many, many people never get a fair break. It is a lot of poppycock to say that every man gets just what he is entitled to. Many a perfect dumbbell who had the good fortune to be born of wealthy parents is occupying a pleasant, highly-salaried position today while another man, with a brain ten times as good as his, who came from the depths of poverty and misfortune, and never had a chance to develop his latent abilities, is working as a day laborer.

That is the kind of waste that demands checking most of all. Suppose we do waste gasoline, steam, food, electricity or such-like things; we are rich, and it won't cripple us. But we are not any too rich in brains. We never can be. And every brain that lies unused when it might have been put to work in the service of the whole nation represents a loss that can never be made good.

Another sure sign of spring is when the dowagers of the village start rehearsing for a local revue patterned after the Ziegfeld shows.

A Chicago-bound bus was held up in Michigan and 31 passengers were robbed. That's foresight on the part of the Michigan people.

London is the central news distributing city of the world, according to a London newspaper. That claim will be contested of course by any Hollywood press agent.

The special farm relief session set for April 15 will take up Muscle Shoals, the tariff, immigration, prohibition, the world court, reapportionment, the Nicaraguan canal and (there's a good chance, we hear) farm relief.

A gem-studded crown worth $165,000 was shown at the Antique Show in New York the other day. Just the kind of an after-Easter bargain the missus has been looking for.

The League for Sensible Clothing decrees the "hatless blousehood" for men this summer. But there will still be old-fashioned males who will cling to the straw hat.

Dr. Charles A. Beard says we spend more than $21,000,000,000 a year on all forms of diversion. Wonder if that figure includes the forests burned by picnickers.

French Strother, fourth secretary to President Hoover, answers the letters written by those who feel they must write to the president. If you must write to the president, maybe you can get a reply quicker if you address Mr. Strother personally.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KOCK

The Goofygoo soared 'way up high and Clowny shouted, "Me, oh my! This cabin is a classy one. We could not ask for more. There's room for everyone of us, so no one needs to start a fuss. We all can sit and wonder where we are heading for."

"I hope this Goofygoo is a kind, 'cause if he is I will not mind his taking us a long, long way, to some land we've never seen. But, gee, just think how we would flop, if he'd decide to let us drop. Let's all be mighty nice to him, so he will not be mean."

The Goofygoo, still flying fast, heard this remark and said, at last, "Oh, we will all be friendly, 'cause I like you Tinymites. I'll keep you safely in the breeze and dodge the towering posts and trees. Don't be the least bit frightened if I rise to wondrous heights."

"Go right ahead. We're satisfied to just sit here and calmly ride," said Scouty. "But, don't jerk so much. It makes this cabin swing. I can't help that," the bird snapped back. "The wind blows me right off my track. The cabin's hard to carry. It's a clumsy little thing."

Just then they heard a distant roar. "Ah, ha, it's going to rain in the air," exclaimed the long-necked Goofygoo. "There's thunder in the air." And then the rain began to fall. The Tinymites huddled, one and all. The rain drops didn't touch them, so of course, they didn't care.

But for the Goofygoo 'twas sad. The rain was soaking him real bad. Right quick he did a funny thing, while skimming through the sky. Into the cabin came his head. "Ha, ha, I'll fool the rain," he said. "As long as my head's in here it is bound to keep real dry."

(Clowny does a daring thing in the next story.)

QUOTATIONS

"I have seen more admirals in the last two weeks than I ever thought existed. They don't look nearly as forbidding now as they did in the old days."

—David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics, and former machinist's mate.

"Since 1917 the Bureau of Internal Revenue has collected almost $39,000,000,000 and has assessed more than $4,000,000,000 of back taxes. During this time it has refunded less than $1,000,000,000, or approximately 2½ per cent of the amount collected."

—Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury.

"The time has come when each industry and each concern or corporation will have to assume responsibility for its workers. The time has to stop when men can be hired and fired at will without respect to their economic condition."

—James Couzens, U. S. senator from Michigan.

"The railroads can no longer confine themselves to rail transportation but must also enter the business of transportation by motor car and airplane."

—W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"It is better to be acclaimed than to have riches. Friendship is one of the greatest things in life."

—John D. Rockefeller.

"It takes three to make a quarrel. There is needed a peacemaker."

—Gilbert K. Chesterton. (Forum.)

QUITE DOGGY

Knoxville — More than $200 has gone into a bank here during the last two years credited to "Buddy," a dog belonging to George Worsham. By using his paw mark, the dog can draw money from the bank. A recent "signature" drew $200 from the bank to make a payment on his master's home.

Miss Clara Durkes of Gladbrook, Iowa, was a week end guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes.

June Conlon who was operated upon recently for appendicitis in the Rochelle hospital, is doing as well as could be expected. Tuesday was her birthday anniversary. She received many lovely gifts, beautiful flowers and just a lot of cards, all of which she says helps just a lot when you are in the hospital. June has a host of friends who will wish her many more birthday anniversaries, but will wish also that she may be well and enjoy every one of them.

Rev. and Mrs. O. D. Buck entertained a dinner Sunday, Misses Katherine Emmert, Oma Mentzer, Mae Lahman, Gwendolyn Blocher, Messrs Ed. Holbrook, Orville Brindle and Charles Hunt.

Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. Merdic Hussey were Sterling visitors Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Banker was entertained with 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening in Dixon at the home of her friend, Miss Nan McGinnis.

A number of the young people from the Ashton Presbyterian church and the young folks from the local Presbyterian church enjoyed Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Weigle. A program consisting of vocal duet by Misses Helen Senger and Genet Hussey, vocal duet by Mrs. David Weigle and Goldia Graves, reading by Miss Catherine Emmert, saxophone solo, Willard Krehl. During the evening refreshments were served. All reported Mrs. Weigle a royal entertainer.

The Lee county convention of the Woodman was held here yesterday in Kersten's Hall. Forty-seven delegates were present. The object of the meeting was to elect delegates to the State Convention to be held at Peoria June 4. Eight camps were represented. Surely a good showing as there are twelve camps in the county. The following delegates were elected: Adam Wetzel, Ashton; J. A. Dauntler, Dixon; E. H. Barlow, Ambro; Alternates—E. E. Vincent, West Brooklyn; B. Chestley, Lee Center; S. J. Long, Amboy.

Obituary
Edward Shaw Thornton, son of Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Thornton, was born in Bradford township near Lee Center, Ill., December 2, 1882, and passed away March 29, 1929, aged 46 years, 3 months and 27 days. His widow and one son Theodore Edward survive and are living in his late home at Muskegon, Mich. His father and mother, three sisters and two brothers also survive him. He was laid away in the Woodside cemetery at Lee Center, Easter Sunday. Rev. Frazier of the Lee Center congregational church officiating.

Township Election
The China township election held Tuesday, resulted as follows:
South Precinct: Supervisor—Wm. H. Brucker 174; J. H. Lincoln 28, Harry A. Wilkins 4.
Justice of the Peace—W. L. Reigle, 114. A. F. Dierdorff, 122. Constable—Wm. F. Miller 101.
North Precinct: Supervisor—Wm.

Lahman presented a short account and history of the day that was most interesting.

After the routine business of the club, the Department of Civics, with Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes as chairman, presented the program, Mrs. T. W. Brown reading one of Edgar Guest's poems, "A Bad Dream." An article, "Defunct the Powers of the President" was read by Miss Lahman. Since we are at the threshold of a new presidential term of office, this article was particularly appropriate and enlightening as to the nature of the President's duties in his new relationship to the nation. Mrs. Durkes read part of President Hoover's inaugural address. Mrs. Sunday read extracts from Secretary J. Davis' address to a recent convention of State Directors of Public Welfare at Washington, D. C. A questionnaire of most thought-provoking sarcasm, entitled, "The Immigrants' Education" was read by Miss Dorothy Durkes. One couldn't help feeling that as a nation we have a profound responsibility resting upon us in this matter. The program was brought to a close with a delightful reading presented by Mrs. George Ives, another Edgar Guest poem, entitled, "The Great Man." The election of officers which followed the program resulted in the re-electing of the entire group who have served the club the past year. The new term of administration does not begin until next September, following the summer vacation. The club has plans for several projects of community benefit, which will be brought before the people as they are developed. We object of community improvements along any line where we could help and we welcome any women of the community who would like to join us with this ideal in view, to make our community the very best that it can be.

Glee Club Coming.
Sunday evening, April 14th, the Cornell College Girls' Glee Club will give their program at the Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no admission fee but a free will offering will be taken. Better mark Sunday evening, April 14th, and give the Club a splendid audience.

Parent-Teachers' Meeting.
The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held in the school building Friday evening April 12. A program of interest has been prepared, to which everyone is invited.

Obituary
The Lighthouse community was greatly shocked Wednesday morning of last week when the word was passed from one to another that their friends and neighbor, Henry Arnold had died very suddenly. He had not been in robust health for a year or more, but kept active and busy with the usual farm tasks. He had gone out with workmen who were sawing wood, but not feeling well, returned to the house, complaining of difficulty in breathing. Dr. Beveridge of Oregon was hastily summoned, but nothing could be done for the stricken man, who died a few minutes after the doctor's arrival.

Henry Edward Arnold was born at Somonauk, DeKalb county, Illinois, Nov. 8, 1868 and died at his home near Lighthouse, March 27, 1929. He was married to Clara Von Ohlen, June 2, 1896. Three children came to their home, all of whom, with their mother, survive. The children are: Mrs. Mamie Canfield, who resides on a farm near Franklin Grove, Earl, who is in partnership with his father, operated the home farm, and Miss Hattie, who is secretary to the Advisor of the Ogle County Farm Bureau. He is also survived by one brother, Robert, of Watertown, and six grandchildren, Arnold, Lawrence, Wayne and Roderick Canfield, also Janice and Norene Arnold. The deceased, with his family came to Ogle county in 1903 and has ever since resided on his farm where death so suddenly claimed him. He has always been a staunch supporter of the Lighthouse Methodist church, with which he, together with his family united January 25, 1914, during the pastorate of the Rev. F. K. Rich, and for a number of years has been an efficient member of the church board.

Mr. Arnold held an unusual record in the affairs of district schools, having been elected to the board of directors in the spring of the same year in which he came to the Lighthouse community and has served continuously in that capacity to the present time, a period of twenty-six years.

He had lived on a farm all of his life and was numbered among the progressive farmers of this community. He was honest and upright and in his passing Lighthouse loses an esteemed and respected citizen, a kind and obliging neighbor. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Lighthouse church, conducted by Rev. Nazarene of Rochelle, and Rev. Frank Sheets of Oregon. A large crowd of sympathizing friends and neighbors gathered to pay their last respect to a useful citizen. There was a large circle of relatives and friends from a distance. The pallbearers were: John Meyers, Fred Bissell, Harry Bennett, Fred Gates, Percy Fruin, and James Rays. Interment was made in the Lighthouse cemetery.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The days of our years are three-score years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be four score years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.—Psalms 90:10.

Each departed friend is a magnet that attracts us to the next world, and the old man lives among graves.—Richter.

WHAT A PARTY
Yonkers, N. Y. — Thomas Coym was either extraordinarily tough or the liquor at the party he attended was so strong that it acted as an anesthetic. He attended the party in New York one Saturday night. Several days later, he commenced to feel a little pain. Investigation proved that he had fractured his skull and jaw during the party.

U. S. Gunners Sink British Ship

Here is the gun crew of the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Dexter that fired another "shot heard 'round the world"—the shot that sank the British schooner "Imalene," an admitted run runner in the Gulf of Mexico, and thereby brought about a highly complicated diplomatic tangle in Washington. Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador, has asked this government for a full report, as officers of the sunken vessel, while admitting it was laden with liquor, claim it was beyond the 12-mile limit and therefore not required to halt. One of the crew was drowned and others who jumped overboard were picked up by the Coast Guard cutter and brought to New Orleans in irons. This photo was taken on the cutter's arrival at that port.

Smith-Brooks
The marriage of Richard Smith, Jr., to Miss Lucille Lois Brooks occurred in Sterling Saturday. The ceremony was performed by H. K. Hostetter, assistant pastor of the 4th Street Methodist church, at his residence. The attendants of the couple were Abram Gilbert of Franklin Grove, and Miss Ruby Miller of Sterling. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brooks of Dixon. She was a student of the Brown's Business college of Sterling. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith of this place. He is employed by the Blackhawk Produce Company.

AMONG ALL SIXES

In the state of Illinois for the year 1928

—and these Oakland-Pontiac dealers helped make this great record possible—

Registration figures for 1928 show that Oakland-Pontiac outsold all other sixes and combinations of sixes in the state of Illinois for the entire year.

The Oakland-Pontiac dealers whose names appear below, and whose fine sales record of service to owners during the past year helped make this brilliant achievement possible, are more than proud of this tribute to Oakland-Pontiac value and the service which stands behind it.

Right from the beginning, it has been their policy, and that of the hundreds of other Oakland-Pontiac dealers, to give every owner that extra measure of service which is now accepted as traditional with Oakland-Pontiac the country over.

Oakland-Pontiac dealers invite you to call and see the New Oakland All-American Six and the New Pontiac Big Six. These cars are now on display in the showrooms of dealers listed below. Nothing else in the field of medium-priced and low-priced sixes is quite so expressive of the tremendous progress made during recent years in the automotive industry.

One of these Oakland-Pontiac dealers is convenient to your home or business location. Go and see him. Let him tell you all the facts about Oakland-Pontiac value and give you the full benefit of the exceptional service which has enabled this big organization to sweep to state-wide leadership.

SQUIRREL WHICH BIT SEVEN HAS BEEN EXECUTED

A Chicago Policeman Ends Career of Menace With Revolver

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—The little red squirrel that got mad and bit seven persons and thus became what the police described as a red menace, has been executed.

Judge Herbert Immenhausen of Town Hall police court, the only official who took any formal action in the case of the People vs. one little red squirrel, believes there has been a grievous miscarriage of justice. The only document Judge Immenhausen issued was a warrant charging the squirrel with mayhem and providing for his release under $5,000 bond. Such a warrant, he said, did not authorize officers to execute the squirrel before he had been tried.

Patrolman Oscar Hansen fired the shot that ended the great Addison Street squirrel hunt. He defended his action by pointing out that the rodent had bitten seven persons this week and thereby became a menace to society.

The squirrel created a dispute between the City Health Department and the City Attorney's office, the former holding its only duty lay in safeguarding the welfare of those bitten by the squirrel, the latter contending that it was a public duty to shoot crazy squirrels on sight.

As Judge Immenhausen pointed out, however, the sanity of this particular squirrel has never been legally determined.

Discharge From Ears a Menace to Children, Adults

By V. K. Hart, M. D., Charlotte, N. C.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

In the wake of winter there are many discharging ears, both in children and adults. They complicate any upper respiratory infection because of the intimate connection, by the eustachian tube, of the ear with the throat. Nature brings about a cure in many cases. Other ears continue to discharge, sometimes despite intelligent care. Every effort should be made by one so afflicted to obtain a dry ear.

If an ear discharges longer than two or three months, it may easily become an annoying member for life. In time, this discharge takes on a foul odor obnoxious to those nearby. This odor indicates bone destruction. With this bone destruction comes a very serious impairment of hearing that is progressive and permanent. Unless cured, it may end in almost complete deafness in the affected ear.

Any infection of the middle ear, that region behind the drum membrane, is a constant menace to surrounding territory. The "bugs" scout for new feeding grounds. The mastoid may become acutely involved. Rupture may occur into the brain cavity, with formation of a brain abscess of a meningitis. A very large percentage of the former are of ear origin. The latter is usually fatal. Even the inner ear, which houses the "telephone wires," or nerves of hearing and balance, may be attacked. Then comes deafness and dizziness, or both.

That the above facts are not those of fancy is shown by the attitude of insurance companies towards a "chronically discharging middle ear." Insurance rates are greatly raised to the possessor of the same, or insurance is denied altogether.

Every effort should be made, therefore, to stop a discharging ear. The best aid is a conscientious and skilled specialist. Lack of money is no excuse for neglect of self or family. No real doctor—none with the ideals of the "Great Physician" within his heart—will deny care because of lack of funds.

A few words as to prevention. Any nose or throat infection—be it a "plain cold"—or so-called LaGrippe or the severest of all, influenza—is a menace to the ear. Therefore avoid blowing the nose hard during these acute attacks. Too severe blowing may carry infected secretions into the middle ear. Avoid nasal irritations and douches. If fluids are forced into the middle ear, they may carry infected material. During the acute stage, keep the nose open with a simple oil spray. Several times a day use a ten or fifteen per cent argyrol in each nostril, and allow it to run back into the throat.

The infection is usually "planted" in the nose and throat by one of three things: 1. Chilling. 2. Fatigue. 3. Improper nourishment and lack of outdoor exercise. Organisms are always present in the upper respiratory tract. All they need is a fertile field prepared by the foregoing.

Macomb Post Office Robbed Last Night

Peoria, Ill., April 6—(AP)—The postoffice at Macomb, 70 miles southwest of here, was robbed of $21,000 by yegmen who opened the safe early today with an acetylene torch. The loot was in cash, stamps and securities.

The men gained entrance through a basement window. Efforts were being made to trace an acetylene gas tank which the burglars left behind. They also left a tarpaulin with which they apparently draped in front of the vault door while they were at work, to prevent the flame of the torch being seen from the street.

After cutting through the vault door, they blew the lock off an inner door.

A checkup of the loot revealed that only $200 or $300 of the amount was in cash. The remainder was in stamps and securities.

The robbers made their getaway unobserved.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MILDRED LAWRENCE, stenographer at the Judson Hotel, has her fox fur snatched from her in a crowd by STEPHEN ARMSTRONG, who catches the thief and returns the scarf. He asks to take her home. Not wishing to seem ungrateful, she invites him to dinner.

Their evening is spoiled when PAMELA JUDSON, daughter of Mildred's employer, phones her to return to duty. Stephen escorts her to the hotel where Pamela recognizes him as the salesman who had sold her a car. She snubs Mildred and tries to lure Stephen away by pretending she wants to buy another car from him. Then Pamela meets HUCK CONNOR, who becomes infatuated with her.

Stephen invites Mildred to the theater, and when Pamela learns that they are going she gets Huck to take her, hoping to outshine Mildred with her expensive clothes. Stephen confides to Mildred that he is suspicious of Huck, but she thinks he is over-jealous of him. Huck invites them all to an after-theater party but Mildred refuses to go.

Pamela's brother, HAROLD, thinks Huck a broker and a lucky gambler, so asks him for tips. He pretends to have made money on the ponies through some friends and offers to introduce Harold to them. They let him win at first and he boasts to Mildred, with whom he is in love, but she vanes him against Huck. She consents to spend an evening with him to prevent him from going out with the gamblers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

MILDRED pretended not to see Stephen and hurried away before he could reach her desk.

She did not want to talk to him. It wasn't her job she was worrying about, either. She had made up her mind to forget him and was finding it the most difficult thing she'd ever undertaken.

She remained out of sight until he was gone. Seeing her disappear in the direction of the side entrance, he assumed that she was leaving for the day. He quickly followed after, but Mildred had disappeared. There was a turn that hid her from view.

Just beyond was a flower shop. She stepped inside and hid behind a palm until Stephen had passed on his way to the street. Then she hurried back to meet Harold.

"I stopped to telephone for my car," he said. "Do you mind waiting until it is brought round from the garage?"

"We could have taken the subway," Mildred said, thinking that Stephen might return.

But he didn't and she enjoyed the drive uptown. The streets were clogged with traffic and the air was heavy with gasoline fumes, but Mildred did not mind the inconvenience. The air in the subway during the rush hour certainly was less pleasant than gasoline fumes, she thought, and she was not in a hurry.

She didn't care what her mother had to offer Harold for dinner, either. It might be corned beef and cabbage or it might be stewed mutton with turnips. All she cared about was getting him away from the influences that kept him at gambling and drinking. And a good, wholesome meal wouldn't do him any harm, she concluded.

"DON'T you get tired of being a wage slave?" Harold asked her unexpectedly.

"I get so sick of it sometimes I could scream," Mildred answered promptly.

"Well, you don't have to do it. You know. You can marry me," that's sweet of you, Harold."

"That's just another way for you to lose money," Mildred cried in dismay. "But I'll bet they let you win today, didn't they?"

"I think I came out about even," Harold answered, growing a little sulky.

"But you said you'd been winning," she reminded him.

"Oh, we played a little poker upstairs."

"In Mr. Connor's room? You know Mr. Dazel doesn't permit it."

"You mean professional gambling," Harold amplified. "This was only a friendly affair. We and we were in my room," he lied, afraid that he had said too much.

"I don't like it," Mildred said.

"I'll show you the family album," Mildred said. Harold pretended to faint.

Mildred smiled at him, "but you see I'm sure I'm going to fall in love some day. And mother says I always take everything so hard. When I had the measles . . ."

"But marriage with me would inoculate you against falling in love with anyone else," Harold interrupted. "You wouldn't let yourself. You're too square."

"But suppose I couldn't help myself?" Mildred countered. "I don't believe people want to fall in love. It isn't comfortable."

"What? How do you know?" "Well, you hear about broken hearts and ruined lives and other things that love is responsible for," Mildred hastened to explain.

"Maybe I wouldn't break your heart or ruin your life if I were married to you and fell in love with another man, but how about my own heart and my own life? I have to think of them."

Mildred changed the subject quickly. Tried to get him to tell her about Huck. Finally Harold confessed that Huck had introduced him to the ponies, as it were.

"That's just another way for you to lose money," Mildred cried in dismay. "But I'll bet they let you win today, didn't they?"

"I think I came out about even," Harold answered, growing a little sulky.

"But you said you'd been winning," she reminded him.

from a department store basement, but their defects were hardly noticeable.

Once when Mildred opened the door from the kitchen and let in a whiff of their cooking dinner, Connie jumped up and stormed out into the domain that saw little of her, to protest.

"Do we have to have cabbage?" she cried in exasperation. "I can't stand it!" She went over to the stove and lifted the lid from a steaming pot. "Pig knuckles!" Her voice was filled with horror.

SHE waited in the kitchen until Mildred came in. "Surely you aren't going to feed Harold Judson pig knuckles," she exclaimed fervently.

"Why not?" Mildred answered coolly.

Connie wailed. "Well, if you don't eat anything about him you might think of me. I wouldn't have the slightest objection to being Mrs. Harold Judson, but I certainly couldn't put romantic thoughts into a fellow's head when his stomach is filled with pig knuckles."

Mildred looked at her soberly. "He isn't good enough for you, Connie, dear," she said quietly.

"He's a nice boy, but he's a weakling. He couldn't keep a girl like you out of trouble."

"Thanks," Connie answered sarcastically. "I'll keep myself out of trouble."

"You'd probably make a lot of foolish mistakes, married to the kind of man Harold Judson will be."

"Well, why worry?" Connie retorted. "After cabbage and pig knuckles . . ."

And later, when Harold left his plate practically untouched, she felt correct in her conclusion.

It wasn't
